

CYBERCRIME AND INFORMATION SECURITY LAW

6 hours remote lecturing

Held over 3 days

THE COURSE AT A GLANCE

The Cybercrime Bill has been passed, meaning that great changes are ahead for the way that cybercrimes are dealt with.

Companies and individuals need to be aware of the implications of these changes – such as criminal charges for forwarding nude images, and dealing with the new powers that the police will have. While there is an urgent need for this legislation, it is important for us to understand how it will affect us in business and in our personal lives.
